WHAT YOU GET

A complete lead generation pipeline.

Everything below is built, deployed, and maintained for you.

- ✓ A secure, web-based lead pipeline dashboard — view all discovered leads, their scores, social media audit data, and pipeline status in one place
- ✓ Scraped business and Instagram profile data for each lead — follower count, engagement rate, posting frequency, bio info, reels usage, hashtag strategy, and more — all collected automatically
- ✓ A lead scoring system — each prospect is scored based on how much they need professional social media help, so your team focuses on the highest-value opportunities first
- ✓ Canva-generated social media content previews — personalized Instagram mockups for each lead based on their brand identity, embedded directly in outreach emails
- ✓ Gmail draft outreach emails — personalized emails written in your team's voice, placed in your drafts for review before sending. Human-in-the-loop, always
- ✓ Performance reporting — weekly summaries of leads found, qualified, drafted, and replied so you always know what's working
- ✓ Onboarding + ongoing support — full setup, team training, and ongoing maintenance with regular check-ins to tune and improve the system

HOW IT WORKS

Four agents. One pipeline.

Each agent handles a specific stage of the lead generation process.

1 Lead Research Agent

Finds and qualifies prospects

How it finds leads: Scrapes business directories for companies in target locations, pulling their name, address, phone number, website, category, and reviews. Then takes each business's Instagram handle and runs it through a professional-grade data extraction tool to audit their social media presence.

Data points collected from each Instagram profile:

Follower count	Following count	Total post count	Last post date	Posting frequency	Engagement rate
Bio text	Link in bio	Website URL	Business category	Verified status	Reels usage
Recent post captions	Hashtag usage	Contact info in bio	Profile quality score (0-100)		Story highlights

How it scores leads: Each profile gets a lead score based on signals like inactivity, low engagement rate, missing link in bio, no reels content, inconsistent posting, and poor hashtag strategy. Higher score = higher need for social media help.

How it learns your ideal client: During onboarding, I feed the agent your current and past client list. It analyzes patterns — industries, company sizes, geographic areas — and uses that to prioritize leads that look like your best existing clients. The targeting gets sharper over time.

2 Content Preview Agent

Creates personalized sample content for each lead

What it does: For each qualified lead, this agent generates a personalized preview of what their Instagram could look like with professional social media management.

How it works: The agent uses the Instagram data scraped by Agent 1 — the lead's existing posts, captions, aesthetic, color palette, tone of voice, and brand identity — to understand who they are. Then it generates sample content that feels native to their brand, but elevated: better captions, stronger calls to action, cohesive visual strategy, and content variety.

Canva integration: The agent connects directly to your team's Canva account to generate polished mockups that look like real Instagram posts. These are exported as images and embedded directly in outreach emails — so the prospect sees the preview without clicking any links.

3 Outreach Agent

Drafts personalized emails in your voice

What it does: Writes personalized outreach emails for each lead and places them in your team's Gmail drafts — never auto-sent. Your team reviews, tweaks if needed, and sends when ready. You always have final say.

How it learns your voice: During setup, the agent studies your team's existing sent emails — past outreach, follow-ups, client communications — to learn exactly how Ninety Five Media talks. Every draft it writes sounds like it came from your team, not from AI.

Email approach: Emails are warm and inviting. The content preview image is embedded directly in the email body so the prospect sees it immediately without clicking a link.

Gmail integration: The agent connects to your team's Gmail and places every drafted email directly into the Drafts folder, tagged and organized by lead. Your designated team member reviews the queue and hits send.

4

Orchestrator

Coordinates everything on autopilot

What it does: The brain of the system. Coordinates all three agents on a daily and weekly schedule so the pipeline runs without anyone touching it.

Daily workflow:

- ① Lead Research Agent scans for new businesses, scrapes their Instagram profiles, scores and qualifies them
- ↓ Qualified leads are passed to the Content Preview Agent
- ② Content Preview Agent generates personalized Instagram content mockups via Canva for each new lead
- ↓ Preview images are passed to the Outreach Agent
- ③ Outreach Agent drafts personalized emails with the preview embedded and places them in your Gmail drafts
- ↓ Your team reviews drafts and sends when ready

Weekly: The Orchestrator generates a summary report — leads found, qualified, drafted, and responded — so you always know what's working.

UNDER THE HOOD

Marketing intelligence built in

Your agents are equipped with a robust open-source marketing skills library that guides tasks like SEO, CRO, copywriting, email sequences, analytics, and growth engineering — 32 specialized skills across 7 categories. This gives each agent structured frameworks and best practices rather than generic AI output.

Your team, your personality ☆☆☆

Every agent team I build is themed and personalized to the client — named after your favorite characters, your brand pillars, or your team's inside jokes. Once we finalize the agents, we'll pick characters together. It makes the system feel like yours, not just another tool.

HOW I GET YOU STARTED

A clean, transparent setup process.

You maintain full visibility and control of all accounts and costs.

- 1 You provide a payment method — a virtual card is ideal so your team can track all third-party costs (server, API tokens, scraping credits) separately. All third-party accounts are billed directly to you.
- 2 I create a dedicated email account — used for setting up all the integrations and API accounts. This keeps everything organized under one login that your team will own.
- 3 I build your agent team — using my existing master agents and infrastructure, I architect and build your four agents with your brand voice, client profile, and targeting preferences baked in.
- 4 I deploy to a dedicated server — your system runs on its own cloud server (billed to you at approximately $8-10/month). Fully isolated, fully yours.
- 5 I connect your accounts — Gmail for draft placement and voice learning, Canva for content previews, and all scraping tools are connected and tested end-to-end.
- 6 I test and tune — test batches run, lead quality reviewed together, email drafts refined, scoring thresholds adjusted until the output meets your standards.
- 7 I launch and hand off — upon acceptance, I provide all server credentials and account access. Your team is added to the agent communication channel for direct visibility into the pipeline. I train your team member on how to operate and monitor the system.

You own everything

All accounts, credentials, data, and server access belong to your team. You pay third-party costs directly on your card so there are no hidden markups. I estimate third-party costs at approximately $300-$600/month depending on volume — and these can be throttled and optimized over time.

INVESTMENT

Custom AI Lead Generation System

Built, deployed, and maintained for Ninety Five Media

One-time setup fee $6,000
Full system build, agent configuration, all integrations, testing, deployment to your dedicated server, and team training

Monthly flat fee $400/mo
Ongoing server maintenance, agent monitoring, troubleshooting, prompt tuning, and system enhancements

Terms: 3-month initial service minimum, then converts to month-to-month with 30-day termination notice. 50% of setup fee billed at project kickoff, remaining 50% billed upon completion of initial build. Third-party costs (cloud server, API tokens, scraping credits) are billed directly to you on your card — estimated at $300-$600/month depending on volume.

TIMELINE

- Week 1 Onboarding & Discovery — Access to your Gmail, Canva, client list. Define target niches, review your outreach voice, set up all API accounts.
- Week 2 Agent Build — Configure all 4 agents, install marketing skills, train the Outreach Agent on your email voice, set up the Orchestrator's daily workflow.
- Week 3 Testing & Tuning — Run test batches, review lead quality and email drafts together, fine-tune scoring thresholds and content preview templates.
- Week 4 Launch & Handoff — System goes live. Dashboard access shared. Training session with your team member. First real batch of leads flows through the pipeline.
